Acknowledgements:

The Walden Woods Project would like to thank the dozens of volunteers who have donated their time and help since 2002 in the preliminary work of organizing, foldering, re-boxing, photo-copying, de-stapling, labeling, and other preliminary tasks necessary to the creation of this finding aid.

From 2004 to 2009, several interns from the Simmons College Graduate School of Library and Information Science have created finding aids to small portions of the Harding Collection, or have created draft finding aids to larger portions. Their work has been an invaluable to this project.

In 2007 the Harding Family generously donated royalties from The Days of Henry Thoreau to establish a fund, managed by the Thoreau Society, to offer additional support of the work on the Harding Collection. In addition, an anonymous donation of $10,000 was added to this fund. In 2008 three people who had previously worked on the Harding Collection as volunteers or interns — Donna Maturi, Nicole Bell-Hathaway, and Bob Maker — were hired on a part-time basis with monies from this fund to help with the final stages.
