

THE WRITINGS OF
HENRY DAVID THOREAU

JOURNAL

EDITED BY BRADFORD TORREY

V

MARCH 5-NOVEMBER 30, 1853

BOSTON AND NEW YORK
HOUGHTON MIFFLIN AND COMPANY

The Riverside Press, Cambridge

1906

COPYRIGHT 1906 BY HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO.

All rights reserved

CONTENTS

CHAPTER I. March, 1853 (Æt. 35)

3

The Lesser Redpoll — A Transcendentalist — Two Red Squirrels — Early Catkins — The Earliest Sign of Spring — Chestnuts in Spring — Mummies — The Sap of the Earth — Early Spring Vegetation — A Young Tortoise — The Bottom of a Brook — Fox Nutting — The Choice of Pursuits — Self-Support — The Bermudas — Bluebirds' Warblings — New Bird Arrivals — The Foreglow of the Year — Walden Breaking Up — The English Seasons — Ice in Flint's Pond — Chickweed — Robins Abundant — The Peeping of the Hyla — The Double Awakening — A Town with the Dew on it — A Description of Man — A Tortoise-Shell — Evelyn's English — Cat-tail Down — The Observation of Nature — A Water-Owner — Gray Squirrels — Willow Cones — A Snowbird Concert — Observation — A Gaggle of Geese — A Hen-Hawk — Skunk-Cabbage — Hazel in Bloom — Croaking Frogs — An Ant-Hill — The Blackbirds' Notes — Losing One's Way at Night — The Leaning Hemlocks — Telegraph Music — Ducks on the River — The First Humming of Insects — A Muskrat's Burrow — Crystalline Dew — The Earliest Willow — Burrowing Spiders — Fires in the Woods — Observing too Curiously — Digging out a Woodchuck's Burrow — A Sparrow Concert — Frank Brown's Mounted Birds.

CHAPTER II. April, 1853 (Æt. 35)

79

Song Sparrow Songs — The Snipe's Winnowing — An Optical Illusion — The Scent of Muskrats — Hawks and Poultry — A Wood Tortoise — A Saddening Intercourse — Newspaper-Reading — Saxifrage — A Blackbird Concert — Early April Birds — Blossoming Willows — Bees and Skunk-Cabbage — White Maples — Spotted Tortoises — Concord and its River

— The Pine Warbler — The Hum of Bees — Crowfoot and Saxifrage — The Farmer's Clearing Up — The Natural History Rooms — A Visit in Haverhill — Old Houses of Refuge — A Haverhill Fisherman — Return to Concord — The Value of a Good Horse.

CHAPTER III. May, 1853 (Æt. 35)

116

May-Day Colors — Birds of Early May — Trees Leafing — Leaves and Blossoms — Stone-Heaps in the River — The Painted-Cup — Blooming of the Birches — A Day with Mr. Alcott — Bird Arrivals — The Golden Gates of the Year — Nature as a Language — The First Bobolink Strain — The Blue Violets — The Redstart — The Horizon Mountains — A Snake and a Sparrow — The Drumming of a Partridge — Birch Leaves and Catkins — The Birth of Shade — Peach Bloom — A Stake-Driver — Great Blue Herons — A Strip of Smooth Water — The Herons Again — The Song of the Cricket — Expanding Leaves — The Order of Leafing of Trees and Shrubs — Rhododendron — A Thunder-Shower — The Early Cinquefoil — An Ineffable Fragrance — A Serene, Ambrosial Beauty — The Oaks in the Red — The Song of the Wood Thrush — A Gentle May Storm — The Beech — After a Fire in the Woods — The Tanager — Thorn Trees — Nobscot Hill — The Rescue of a Lost Kitten — Rhodora — Spruce Trees in Bloom — Staying out Late — The Tropical Tanager — Botanical Descriptions — The Barberry — A Stake-Driver — Dorbugs — Lupine Hill — Muscular Irritability — The First Hot Weather — A Sail down River — Allegorical Incidents — Hunting for the Pink Azalea — Melvin and the Pink Azalea.

CHAPTER IV. June, 1853 (Æt. 35)

209

Galls and their Analogies — The Powder-Mill Wreck — The Farmer's Horn — A Nighthawk and her Eggs — Fog on the River — Billows of Fog — Clintonia — Painted-Cup — The Rhododendron — Old Concord Place-Names — Superstition — Corydalis — The Passing of Spring — A Mirror-like Pool — Hemlock Woods — A Nighthawk — A Pair of Hawks and their Nest — A Milkman's Household — A Young Hawk — Looking through a Spy-Glass — The Easterbrooks Country — The Human in Hogs — Thoreau, the Privateersman — The Great Orchis — Young Hawks — Meeting with a Rare Bird — Tortoise-Tracks — Annual Phenomena — The Painted Tortoise laying her Eggs — Bullfrogs — White Pond — A Bullfrog Concert — Afternoon Sauntering — The Wood Thrush's Song — A Clover-Field in Bloom — The Wild Rose — The Awakening of the Birds — Woodchucks and Meadow-Hens — A Walden Legend — The Button-bush Stems — A Dog in the Boat — Three Ultra-Reformers — Slimy Benignity — The Iron Horse — Blue-eyed Grass — A Young Nighthawk — Lambkill and Mountain Laurel — A Large Toadstool — The Sweet-Briar — The Melting of the Toadstool — The Nest of a Cuckoo — Rhododendron from New Hampshire — The Treadmill of Routine — A Moonlight Walk — Lakes of Cold Air at Night — The Night-Warbler — The First Water-Lily — A Young Skunk — Temperature and Clothing — Sweet-Briar — A Suffocating Night — The Wood Thrush's Song — Specularia — Heart-Leaf — A Live Scarecrow — Pine Timber — Fresh-water Eel-Grass — Birds' Nests — Amelanchier Berries — The Hunter Stage of Development — Clear Air — A Beautiful Sunset — Pickerel and Minnow.

CHAPTER V. July, 1853 (Æt. 35-36)

309

Some Botanical Notes — Sounding the Swamps and Meadows — Drought and Dust — Botanical and Miscellaneous Notes — A Gentle Susurrus — The Battle of the Moon and the Clouds — The Midsummer Night's Moon — Fair Haven Pond — Rhexia — Identifying a Muskrat's Skull — Shade and Coolness — The Reign of Heat and Dryness — Clintonia Berries — Berries and Berrying — Fair Haven Hill at Sunset — The Setting Sun — Tying Shoe-strings — Dog-day Rain — The Flowers and the Scythe — The Great Meadows in Haying Time — Butterflies — Threading One's Way through a Blueberry Swamp — Doubleness in Nature — Going to Europe for Education — Choke-Cherries — The Tobacco-Pipe Flower — Climbing Fern — Galls — Lespedezas and Desmodiums.

CHAPTER VI. August, 1853 (Æt. 36) 352

Hopestill Brown — The Mower and his Snake Stories — Sunflowers — Money-earning Employments — A Boy and his Huckleberries — A Lady's Dress — The Barber on the River — Yellow Gerardias — Goldenrod — The Season of Small Fruits — Alcott — A Hot Day — A Mired Horse — Marriage — Late Afternoon — A Black Cloud — Desmodiums — Fungi — Earthiness of Old People — The Sense of Lateness — The Sudbury Meadows — A Beautiful Day — The Forest a Green Rug — Choke-Cherries — August Birds — Changing Colors of Foliage — The Purple Poke Stems — Nature and Health — Goldenrods and Asters — Weeds — The Meandering of Streams — Riverside Flowers — Sailing — Ferns in Fruit.

CHAPTER VII. September, 1853 (Æt. 36) 407

The Meadow-Beauty — The River a Mirror — Simplicity in Living — Asters — The Soapwort Gentian — Beautiful Wild Berries — A Flock of Blackbirds — Autumnal Berying — Goldenrods — Old Concord — The First Frost — The Second Excursion to the Maine Woods — The Measurements of a Moose — A Log Hut — Birds about a Camp — By Stage back to Bangor — The Making of a Canoe — Maine Lumbering — The Return to Concord.

CHAPTER VIII. October, 1853 (Æt. 36) 435

Barberrying — The Scent of Wild Grapes — A Bullet in an Oak Stick — Carrying a Subscription Paper — Fallen Leaves — Three Dusky Ducks — The Year's Great Crop — John Goodwin and his Winter's Wood — Simplicity and Vigor — Goodwin, the Fisherman — Late Goldenrods and Asters — A Southerly Storm — A Telltale on the River-Bank — Innocence and Liberty — The Rising River — Hop-Hornbeam Catkins — Moose-Tracks — The Return of the "Week" — Bare Trees — An Indian-Summer Afternoon — Gossamer.

CHAPTER IX. November, 1853 (Æt. 36) 468

Another Gossamer Day — Gathering Pignuts — Two Mean Men — Fallen Beech Leaves — Autumn Twilight — November Flowers — Muskrat-Cabins — The Nests of Birds, Squirrels, and Mice — A Satisfactory Foreground — Buds — The Frost on the Cistus — The Wreck of the River — Nutting — A Muskrat-House — The Birds of Autumn — The Interior of a Muskrat-House — A Mink Swimming — Out in the Rain — A Forenoon on the River — Opening a Muskrat-Cabin — A Home in Nature — Up the River by Moonlight — Nature's Closed Door — The Afterglow of the Year — White Cedar — A Moonlight Sail — The Scarcity of Good Lecturers — A Sound of Cannon — Pelagii and Littorales — Geese Going South — A Proposed Speculation in Cranberries — Paying for the "Week" — Dew and Mist — Raking Cranberries — Dew and Rain — A Book on the Autumnal Tints — The Flooded Meadows — A Flock of Geese — Freezing Weather — Munroe's Account Settled — The Story of a Mad Dog — An Indian Pestle — A November Sunset — Raking the River — A Pine Grove — Meandering Roads.