

A Paul Brooks Bibliography

Books

The House of Life: Rachel Carson at Work (Boston: Houghton Mifflin, 1972)

The Old Manse and the People Who Lived There (S.l.: Trustees of Reservations, 1983)

The People of Concord: One Year in the Flowering of New England (Chester, CT: Globe Pequot Press, 1990)

The Pursuit of Wilderness (Boston: Houghton Mifflin, 1971)

Roadless Area (New York: Knopf, 1964)

Speaking for Nature: How Literary Naturalists from Henry Thoreau to Rachel Carson Have Shaped America (Boston: Houghton Mifflin, 1980; reprinted, San Francisco: Sierra Club Books, 1983)

A summary report : Lincoln Land Use Conference, Lincoln, Massachusetts, November 19, 1977 (Lincoln, MA: Lincoln Land Use Conference, 1977)

Trial by Fire: Lincoln, Massachusetts, and the War of Independence (Lincoln, MA: Lincoln 1975 Bicentennial Commission, 1975)

The View from Lincoln Hill: Man and the Land in a New England Town (Boston: Houghton Mifflin, 1976)

Worth Remembering (S.l.: s.n., 1999)

Articles

“Acquiring and Protecting Land” in Garden Journal (November/December 1968, pp. 71-80; reprinted in Challenge for Survival: Land, Air, and Water For Man in Megalopolis edited by Pierre Dansereau (New York: Columbia University Press, 1970))

“Alaska: Last Frontier” in The Atlantic Monthly (September 1962, 73-78)

“Baja California: Emergency and Opportunity” in Audubon (March 1972, pp. 4-23)

“Beachcombing in the Virgin Islands” in Harper’s Magazine (December 1960, pp. 52-57)

“Between the Tides” in Massachusetts Audubon (January/February 1960, pp. 105-110)

“Birds and Men” in Audubon (July 1980, pp. 43-45)

“Birds and Women” in Audubon (September 1980, pp. 88-97)

“Canyonlands: A New National Park” in The Atlantic Monthly (March 1963, pp. 52-57)

“Champlain: Battleground Still” in Audubon (January 1977, pp. 66-77)

“Coming to Lincoln in the ‘Thirties’” in The Lincoln Review (November/December 1997, pp. 5-9)

“Concord: First Town in the Wilderness” in The Living Wilderness (April/June 1976, pp. 4-9)

“Congressman Aspinall vs. the People of the United States” in Harper’s Magazine (March 1963, pp. 60-63)

“Conservation and the Conventional Wisdom” / “Wilderness and Western Culture” in Sierra Club Bulletin (December 1965, pp. 6-9)

“A Copper Company vs. the North Cascades” in Harper’s Magazine (September 1967, pp. 48-50)

“Courage of Rachel Carson” in Audubon (January 1987, pp. 12, 14-15)

“England by Canoe” in The Atlantic (January 1958, pp. 93-96)

“A Field Guide to Roger Tory Peterson” in Country Journal (December 1985, pp. 34-41)

“The Fight for America’s Alps” in The Atlantic (February 1967, pp. 87-90, 97-99)

“The First Owners” in Man & Nature: Land Use 1975 (Lincoln, MA: Massachusetts Audubon Society, 1975, pp. 22-27)

“The Golden Plains of Tanganyika” in Horizon (Winter 1965, pp. 80-89)

“The Great Smokies” in The Atlantic (May 1959, pp. 63-66)

“Isle Royale” in The Atlantic (September 1960, pp. 74-78)

“Just a Country Boy Who Found His Niche” in Audubon (May 1984, pp. 48-59)

“Living in the Clouds” in The Atlantic (June 1956, pp. 54-57)

“Man’s Way with the Wilderness” in Horizon (March 1960, pp. 12-16)

“Mexico’s California” in The Atlantic (September 1964, pp. 69-73)

“Oklawaha: The Sweetest Water-Lane in the World” in Audubon (July 1970, pp. 34-45)

“Painter as Naturalist” in Sierra Club Bulletin (March/April 1983, pp. 88-91)

“The Plot to Drown Alaska” in The Atlantic (May 1965, pp. 53-59; reprinted in Reader’s Digest, August 1965, pp. 79-83)

“The Plot to Strangle Alaska’ by Ernest Guerning, Paul Brooks Replies” in The Atlantic (July 1965, pp. 56-59)

“The Pressure of Numbers” in The Atlantic (February 1961, pp. 54-56)

“Rachel Carson’s Silent Spring” in The Lincoln Review (May/June 1993, pp. 7,10)

“Roadless Area” in The Atlantic (June 1954, pp. 47-50)

“A Roadless Area Revisited” in Audubon (March 1975, pp. 28-37)

“Room for Living: the Lincoln Experience” in Audubon (September 1967, pp. 102-107)

“The Seed of a Conscience” in Audubon (November/December 1967, pp. 36-37)

“The Spirit of ‘Eight-Fifteen’” in The Atlantic Monthly (August 1943, pp. 107, 109)

“St. Mark’s School Founded in Southboro, 1865” in Town & Country (1 October 1933, pp 46-49, 72)

“Superjetport or Everglades Park?” in Audubon (July 1969, pp. 4-11)

“Thoreau’s Joyful Search for Truth” in Country Journal (September 1975, pp. 80-87)

“Three-Mile Portage” in The Atlantic (March 1962, pp. 82-85)

“Tonic of Wilderness” in Country Journal (September 1977, pp. 66-71)

“Town Meeting Tonight” in Country Journal (March 1977, pp. 40-43)

“Two in a Canoe” in The Atlantic (July 1942, pp. 95-97)

“The Two Johns: Burroughs and Muir” in Sierra Club Bulletin (September/October 1980, pp. 51-58)

“The Uses of a Canoe” in Country Journal (June 1974, pp. 40-45)

“Warning: The Chain Saw Cometh” in The Atlantic (December 1971, pp. 95-99)

“What is a Book Contract?” in The Atlantic (June 1949, pp. 78-79)

“Wild Africa’s Future?” in Massachusetts Audubon (Autumn 1964, pp. 240-244)

“The Wilderness Ideal” in The Living Wilderness (September 1980, pp. 4-12)

“Wild Rivers” in Joint Report of the Department of Agriculture and Department of the Interior (May 1965, p. 33)

“The Words We Work With” in Sierra Club Bulletin (April 1968, pp. 17-19)

“Young Emerson’s Teacher: Born a Century Too Soon” in The Lincoln Review (March/April 1965, pp. 29, 31)

Works Edited

Mondays at nine; or, Pedagogues on parade, a collection of the literary débris of Sarah Lampoon, last of the white witches and intimate confidante of the Harvard faculty with T. Graydon Upton (Cambridge: The Harvard Lampoon, 1931)