Part V, line 4:

The Walden Woods Project intends to continue to solicit contributions to build its endowment fund. Ultimately, earnings from the endowment will be applied to offset annual operating costs.

Part X, Line 2:

The Project is a non-profit corporation organized under the laws of Massachusetts and is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Accordingly, the financial statements do not reflect a provision for income taxes. This determination has been reviewed according to guidance in a Financial Accounting Standards Board pronouncement related to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. In determining the recognition of uncertain tax positions, the Project now applies a more-likely-than-not recognition threshold and determines the measurement of uncertain tax positions by considering the amounts and probabilities of the outcomes that could be realized upon ultimate settlement with taxing authorities. As of December 31, 2016, the Project has no uncertain tax positions that qualify for either recognition or disclosure in the financial statements. The Project is generally subject to potential examination by taxing jurisdictions for the prior three years.

The Project is potentially subject to Unrelated Business Income Tax (UBIT) relating to the sale of produce at a farm stand, which is not related to wide variety of organized groups, including school groups, elder services groups, and tourists. Management activities include maintenance of existing trails, trail design, interpretation and construction, maintenance of trail head parking facilities, and ecological improvements intended to benefit wildlife and the natural value of our land.

Invasive exotic plants are a major threat to the ecological integrity of our land. The Project actively manages our properties to reduce the prevalence of invasive plants and to minimize the threat they represent. The Project's land management programs support ongoing collaboration between a wide variety of civic and environmental groups who regularly provide volunteer invasive species management to our organization.

The Walden Woods Project manages conservation restrictions on 67.8 acres of land, which prevents development of sites not owned in fee (total acres owned in fee: 97.6). Annual conservation restriction monitoring is done to ensure that the protections prescribed in the conservation restrictions are in effect.

world-and to develop an environmental ethic. As Thoreau himself is a highly interdisciplinary subject, we address the topics of transcendentalism, social reform, writing, natural history and 19-century history in our programs.

We have had several years of record-breaking numbers for student groups visiting us here in Walden Woods, having served 769 students for 2014-2015 and 1101 students in 2015-2016. For 2016-2017, it is possible that number will reach 1600. When groups come for a visit, we put together a customized experience, whereby they either participate in a guided educational walk through areas of Walden Woods, an interactive lesson at a vernal pool, and/or a session with our Curator of Collections in the Thoreau Institute Library, which houses the world's most extensive collection of Thoreau-related material.

Additionally, we continue to serve several hundred students each year through our Skype in the Classroom program (for those who are too far away to visit the Woods).

Our Approaching Walden summer professional development program brings in two dozen educators from across the country for a 6-day, immersive study of Thoreau's writings and the place that inspired him.

Acceptance to this program is becoming increasingly more competitive.

It receives consistently high acclaim each year from participants.

Participants have the option of completing additional readings and assignments to receive 3 graduate-level credits for the course through Fitchburg State University.

Every year brings new people to the Thoreau Institute Library, whether in-person or virtually. In 2016, visitors and researchers came from Canada, Europe, Asia and Australia. Translators from around the world have worked with the curator to provide accurate and representative translations. "Skype in the Classroom" sessions bring our curator into classrooms around the country, reaching hundreds of students in 2016. We continue to publish many works electronically and update finding aids to our collections. The curator is involved in a year-long mentoring program on Thoreau and Transcendentalism, begun in 2016, with students from UMass Lowell's Honors College, and he travelled to Northern Ireland to work with college students there.
